PENTAX TO OUTSOURCE OVERSEAS DISTRIBUTION TO FEDEX.

Text:

TOKYO, April 28 Asia Pulse - Pentax Corp. (TSE:7750) plans to outsource overseas product distribution to US giant FedEx Corp. in a bid to speedily deliver goods and prevent the loss...

The precision machinery maker will on May 1 assign to FedEx the delivery, storage and inventory management of digital cameras and other products for the US market. This will enable Pentax to halve its distribution costs and delivery time to US stores, according to Pentax officials.

Under the new partnership, FedEx will allow Pentax to use its network information management system, which manages tracking data from the time products are manufactured to the time stores receive the items. It will also let Pentax use its tax-free distribution base in the Philippines.

Pentax plans to use FedEx's base in the Philippines as a distribution center for all film cameras, digital cameras and binoculars manufactured in five regions across Asia, including Japan.

When retailers of Pentax products in the US place orders through the network, FedEx will package at the Philippines base the necessary items for each order and transport them...
